PENTECOST SUNDAY

When the time for Pentecost was fulfilled, they were all in one place together. And suddenly there came from the sky a noise like a strong driving wind, and it filled the entire house in which they were. Then there appeared to them tongues as of fire, which parted and came to rest on each one of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit....”

A PRAYER TO THE SPIRIT

Holy Spirit, who sent Christ Jesus to carry the Good news to the poor, we pray to you:

Help us to continue your work

by serving the poor, our brothers and sisters.

—From Come, Lord Jesus by Lucien Deiss, CSSP, copyright © 1976, 1981, Lucien Deiss. Published by World Library Publications. p.181

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Dear St. Mary's Parishioners:

Blessed Pentecost! Sometimes, I publish a "re-run". This letter was in the bulletin for Pentecost 2018. Enjoy!

Today, we celebrate the birthday of the Church, when God in His providence and generosity sent the Holy Spirit to the first leaders of the Church and to us. May the Holy Spirit reign in our hearts! May the Paraclete, the Advocate always guide us, stand by us and console us. One of my favorite traditions of Pentecost that I have only heard about, but never experienced firsthand, takes place every year at the Pantheon in Rome. The Pantheon is 1,890 years old and is the world's oldest building. Originally dedicated to the gods ("pan"=all and "theon"=gods, in Greek), it was converted to a Catholic church and dedicated to "St. Mary and the martyrs" in the seventh century. The Pantheon is a circular building with a circular opening in the roof, known as an "oculus". The oculus is a 142 feet in diameter and is situated 142 feet above the floor.

On Pentecost Sunday, Mass is celebrated in the Pantheon. After Mass, everyone present has the gift of witnessing the "pioggia degli petali di rose" or the "rain of the rose petals". (One can view this amazing tradition on YouTube right here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WFUJk1UvdyI>) Originating in the year 609, the tradition of the raining rose petals points to, and symbolizes, the tongues of fire descending on the Blessed Mother and the apostles who were praying in the Upper Room in expectation of the coming of the Holy Spirit. St. Luke writes in the Acts of the Apostles, from this Sunday's First Reading: "And suddenly there came from the sky a noise like a strong driving wind, and it filled the entire house in which they were. Then there appeared to them tongues as of fire, which parted and came to rest on each one of them." (Acts 2:3-4)

Of course, the "rain of the rose petals" is not a miracle. Rather, Roman fire fighters haul the bags of petals up to the roof and drop the petals down at the end of Mass. As the petals descend, they cover the center floor of the Pantheon with a coating of aromatic, beautiful rose petals. The rain of the rose petals may not be miraculous, but the fact that the Holy Spirit continues to work in our lives is a miracle and a gift that we want to embrace with all our hearts. We pray today that the Holy Spirit reign in our hearts and encourage us to live according to God's call that we be saints. May the Holy Spirit inspire us to use our God-given gifts in our everyday lives.

In the Father, Son and Holy Spirit,
Father Berg

DOMINGO DE PENTECOSTES

23 de mayo de 2021

Jesús se hizo presente a los discípulos y les trajo su paz. Les envió en su misión con poder para perdonar o atar los pecados por el Espíritu Santo (Juan 20:19-23) o Juan 15:26-27; 16:12-15.

DESDE EL ESCRITORIO DEL PÁRROCO

Estimados Feligreses de Santa María:

¡Bendito Pentecostés! De vez en cuando, publico una repetición. Este escrito estuvo en el boletín de Pentecostés en el 2018. ¡Disfrútelo!

Hoy, celebramos el cumpleaños de la Iglesia, cuando Dios en su providencia y generosidad envió al Espíritu Santo a los primeros líderes de la Iglesia y a nosotros. ¡Que el Espíritu Santo reine en nuestros corazones! Que el Paráclito, el Abogado siempre nos guíe, permanezca junto a nosotros y nos consuele. Una de mis tradiciones favoritas de Pentecostés, de la que solamente he oído hablar, pero que no he experimentado personalmente, tiene lugar cada año en el Panteón de Roma. El Panteón tiene 1,890 años y es el edificio más antiguo del mundo. Originalmente dedicado a los dioses ("pan" = todos y "theon" = dioses, en griego), se convirtió en una iglesia Católica y fue dedicada a "Santa María y los mártires" en el siglo VII. El Panteón es un edificio circular con una abertura circular en el techo, conocido como "óculo". El óculo tiene 142 pies de diámetro y está situado a 142 pies sobre el piso.

El Domingo de Pentecostés, la Misa se celebra en el Panteón. Después de Misa, todos los presentes tienen el don de presenciar la "pioggia degli petali di rose" o la "lluvia de pétalos de rosa". (Uno puede ver esta increíble tradición en YouTube.) Originada en el año 609, la tradición de La lluvia de pétalos de rosa se enfoca y simboliza las lenguas de fuego que descienden sobre la Santísima Madre y los apóstoles que estaban orando en el Cenáculo ante la expectativa de la venida del Espíritu Santo. San Lucas escribe en los Hechos de los Apóstoles, de la primera lectura de este domingo: "De repente, se produjo desde el cielo un estruendo, como de viento que soplaban fuertemente, y llenó toda la casa donde se encontraban sentados. Vieron aparecer unas lenguas, como llamaradas, que se dividían, posándose encima de cada uno de ellos." (Hechos 2: 3-4).

Por supuesto, la "lluvia de pétalos de rosa" no es un milagro. Más bien, los bomberos romanos cargan las bolsas de pétalos de rosa hasta el techo y los dejan caer al final de la Misa. A medida que descienden los pétalos, cubren el piso central del Panteón con una capa de pétalos de rosas aromáticas y hermosas. La lluvia de los pétalos de rosa puede no ser milagrosa, pero el hecho de que el Espíritu Santo continúe trabajando en nuestras vidas es un milagro y un regalo que queremos acoger con todo nuestro corazón. Oremos hoy para que el Espíritu Santo reine en nuestros corazones y nos ayude a vivir de acuerdo al llamado de Dios de que seamos santos. Que el Espíritu Santo nos inspire a usar los dones que Dios nos ha dado en nuestra vida cotidiana.

En el Padre, el Hijo y Espíritu Santo,
Padre Berg
